Organisations cannot change lives. Society can. Let’s build on that.

Ananta Centre is a nonpartisan trust that works to create a strong and open society pivoted on values-based leadership and constructive dialogue. It is supported by a group of people and organisations that believe in such a society.

The trust works towards societal transformation by working on three core pillars:

Leadership
Ethical leadership is the key to an inclusive society. Our Leadership Programmes help build a cadre of leaders driven by a strongly-held belief system. This kind of leadership does not play to the gallery and bats for the larger good.

Public Policy
Policies, informed by people’s perspective and focussed on the larger good, are strategic tools of transformation. We help catalyze such policies by creating forums that bring together important stakeholders including policy makers for dialogue and debate.

International Relations
A society is as influenced by its external ties as by its internal dynamics. We facilitate important conversations between Influencers in India and their peers abroad. This facilitates exchange of ideas and knowledge and helps the participants develop and spread a more informed worldview.
